

[Vitnisburður hinnar írönsku Gazelle Sharmahd á næstu blaðsíðum er í takt við vitnisburði tveggja annarra íranskra kvenhetja. Það er Maral Salmassi í Þýskalandi og lögfræðingurinn Elica Le Bon í Bandaríkjunum. Þær þrjár eru sammála um að klerkstjórnin í Teheran séu ofbeldisfullir útlendingar - raunar arabískir múslimskir heimsvaldasinnar, sem hafi kúgað írönsku þjóðina í 46 ár.

Það sem ég hef fræðst um forneskju klerkanna í Íran er á þessa leið:

Takmark klerkanna er að kúga allt mannkyn undir eitt múslimskt kalíphat. Lokatakmark þeirra er að undirbúa „hinn efsta dag“, þar sem þeir fara sjálfir í eilífa paradís, en allir aðrir, sem ekki jástast íslam, kannski shía íslam, brenni verðugt, til eilífðar í helvíti Gyðingurinn/Ísraelsbúinn Tal Oran lofar shía múslima í pistli. Eru Hizbollah terroristarnir shía múslimar? Hefur göfgi Zarabústra smitast inn í shía sið? Mér finnst þetta ekki passa saman.

Sagnfræði án lyga sýnir að heimsvaldastefna múslimskra Araba er mesta ógæfa mannkyns síðustu 14 aldir. Þeir eru frumherjar illsku íslams og fleiri eins og Ottómanar komu í kjölfarið.

Greinilega er Gazelle Sharmahd ekki sammála AI um að ZARAPÚSTRA trúar séu aðeins 200.000 þúsund einstaklingar. Hún gefur til kynna að trúin sé nú útbreidd í Íran.

Þegar google er spurt: „zoroastrianism religion?“, kemur eftirfarandi svar:]

AI Overview

Zoroastrianism is one of the world's oldest monotheistic religions, founded by the prophet Zarathushtra (Zoroaster) more than 3,000 years ago in ancient Persia. It centers on the belief in one God, Ahura Mazda (the Wise Lord), and teaches that life is a cosmic struggle between good and evil. Followers are expected to actively participate in this struggle through "good thoughts, good words, and good deeds".

Core beliefs

- One God:

Zoroastrians believe in a single, all-powerful creator, Ahura Mazda, who revealed the truth through the prophet Zoroaster.

- Good vs. Evil:

The religion is founded on the dualism between good and evil, and it is believed that the forces of good will ultimately triumph over evil.

- Free will:

Individuals have the freedom to choose between good and evil, and they are responsible for their own actions and choices.

- Asha:

A central concept is asha, the divine law of truth, order, and justice that governs the universe. Individuals are to align themselves with asha through their actions.

- Fire:

Fire is considered a sacred symbol of Ahura Mazda's light and wisdom, not an object of worship itself.

Sacred texts and rituals

- The Avesta: This is the collection of Zoroastrian sacred scriptures.
- The Gathas: These are hymns believed to have been composed by Zoroaster himself and are considered the oldest part of the Avesta.
- Rituals: Followers traditionally pray several times a day and may worship communally in a Fire Temple (Agiary).

Influence and current status

- Historical influence:

Zoroastrianism was once one of the world's most powerful religions, the official faith of the Persian Empire, and is considered to have influenced other major religions, including Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.

- Modern followers:

Today, Zoroastrianism is one of the world's smallest religions, with a global population estimated to be between 100,000 and 200,000. The largest community is found in India, where they are known as Parsis.

Media: Our next guest has lived through unimaginable darkness. Her father, Jamshid “Jimmy” Shamad, a German American journalist, was kidnapped in Dubai by the Iranian regime simply for speaking out against tyranny. He endured four years of torture while his daughter Gazelle fought tirelessly for his freedom.

Tragically, in October of last year, he was murdered at the age of 69 by this brutal regime. It is our honor to welcome Jazelle Shamad, a courageous freedom advocate and a truly remarkable soul. Today she will share how radical Islam has impacted her family and what we in the West must do to stand united and fight against it. Please welcome Gazelle.

Gazelle: Hi everyone. Can you guys hear me over the noise? Okay. My name is Gazelle. I'm German American. I was born in Iran. I'm not Jewish. I'm not Christian. I'm not Israeli. So you might be wondering, what is she doing here? Is she just crushing our party? No, we share the same enemy and we share the same value for truth.

We are in fact ancient allies and the propaganda machine of the Islamists don't want you to know that they have spent billions of dollars over the years to convince you that Iran is a radical Islamist country with men in turbans screaming for jihad. Well, fun fact, these men in turbans are not Iranians.

There are Arab Islamists occupying Iran, killing Iranians. 90% of the Iranian population is against them. And even after half a century of indoctrination, barely 30% of Iranians identify as Muslim. Our ancient faith is Zoroastrianism. That's my faith. So no, we don't wear turbans. We don't scream for jihad. And we're not descendants of these Ayatollas.

We are descendants of Cyrus the Great. Thank you. You have heard of him before. In history, he's known for writing the first charter on human rights, including that freedom of faith is protected. He was also a supporter of Zionism. Yeah, Zionism is not something new. It's as old as time, thousands of years ago, when the Babylonians tried to ethnically cleanse the Jews out of their homeland and destroyed their temples, cast them out, and held them as slaves.

Cyrus the Great, an Iranian, freed the Jews from slavery, returned them to their homeland, rebuilt their temple. That is the Iran these ayat don't want you to know still exists today, ready to be by your side. And if this story is new to you, this is the story of the entire Middle East.

Every ancient civilization for the last 1,400 years has been occupied by the same Arab Islamist.

- 1) Lebanon is held hostage by Hezbollah. While the Phoenetians and the Marinite Christians are screaming.
- 2) Syria occupied by HDS right now. While the Drews, the Elawites, the Christians, the Kurds are being slaughtered on their own soil.
- 3) Iraq occupied by Islamists. While the Assyrian churches are burning, Yazidi shrines are burning.
- 4) North Africa occupied by Muslim Brotherhood where the Amsik are fighting back. The Egyptian cops are fighting back.
- 5) Afghanistan occupied by the Taliban.
- 6) Yemen occupied by the Houthis.
- 7) Iran occupied by the ayatollas and then there is
- 8) Israel not occupied but free with the same people still living there and the new ones coming back home to rebuild their country to fight against these occupations that have destroyed our civilizations over the decades.

I can see it rings true in your hearts because in every one of you there is this gut feeling where you can distinguish between good and evil. You don't have to watch the video of Hamas and the Ayatollas and all of those people to understand they don't have virtue at heart.

They're savage. And the only way that we're able to convince some of our people here otherwise is because of these billions of dollars. So how dangerous is it for us to expose this truth? It is deadly. I have lived it because they have killed my father for it.

My father Jamshid Sharmahd dedicated his life to speak this truth and show these lies. And when I was in my 20s, they came to Los Angeles to murder us. And when they couldn't do that, they kidnapped my father and for the last five years held him hostage like they're holding the Israelis hostage in Gaza right now. Tortured him, starved him.

And when they couldn't break him, they killed him last October. For almost a year now, we're trying to get his mutilated body back to America. And I hope our administration will finally help us to bring him here, lay him to rest in peace and power.

As I said, I'm not Jewish. I'm not Christian. And this is not just a Jewish fight, not a Christian fight. It is a battle for all of civilization. All of us who refuse to bow and stand up for the truth so that our children from the Middle East till here can one day stand here fearlessly. Thank you.
